THE Women's Christian Temperance Union meet to-morrow afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Jas. McDonald.

The report of the council of the board of trade for the past year will be presented at the general meeting of the board to-morrow night.

The ladies of the town who are interested in the formation of a public library, meet in the Baptist church to-morrow at 3 p.m. to discuss ways and means.

WEATHER turned milder on Saturday and some of the ice which was fast in the bend opposite the H. B. property broke loose and drifted to the jam at the bend below Fraser's mill.

His Lordship the Bishop of Calgary arrived on Friday night to visit the English church missions in this vicinity. On Saturday he left for Beaver Hills and purposed preaching at Beaver Hills and the Sturgeon Settlement yesterday.

The board of trustees of the "Creuzot Roman Catholic public school district No. 34 of the Northwest Territories" are applying to the lieutenant governor, to be empowered to borrow $350 for the purpose of building a school house.

The mounted police have returned from the Indian treaty payments at Stony Plain, Riviere Qui Barre and Lac St. Ann, and report having had lovely weather and a pleasant outing. The treaty was very quiet and none of the Indians were seen to have the least liquor.

The funeral sermon on the death of Mary the wife of Isaac Watson, was preached in the Baptist church last night by the pastor, Rev. A. McDonald, from the text Prov. 14th, Chap. v. 32. "The righteous have hope in his death; but the wicked is driven away in his own wickedness."

Thursday's train contained one coach crowded with immigrants, one coach of first-class passengers, well filled with immigrants, and a smoking car, half filled with immigrants. Most of the new arrivals were from the United States, some got off at Innisfail and about thirteen came through to Edmonton.

There were a large number of participants in the rifle tournament at Fort Saskatchewan on Thursday, Friday and Saturday last. The weather was rather rough on the first two days; but on Saturday was very fine. Messrs. Vaudin and Spratt of the Edmonton rifle association were present and won one and three prizes respectively.

A BETOURNEY, inspector of Indian schools for the province of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, who came by trail from Battleford and inspected the schools en route, arrived here last week and has inspected the schools at Lac St. Anne, Riviere Qui Barre, and Lac La Biche. To-day he goes to inspect the Indian school at St. Albert mission.

Mrs. BEDDINGER of the Pines dropped dead on the doorstep of her residence on Saturday night about 8 o'clock. She had eaten a hearty supper and was apparently in good health when death overtook her. She had been gone from the house about half an hour, when her husband, upon going out of the doorway fell over her prostrate form. This was the first intimation the family had of the affair. Heart failure is supposed to be the cause of death. Deceased was about forty years of age.

A MEETING of the St. Andrew's society was held on Thursday night when the proton officers were duly elected officers for the ensuing year. They are as follows: President, G. J. Kinnard; 1st. vice president, W. Edmiston; 2nd. vice president, C. F. Strang; secretary treasurer, J. Dunlop; standard bearer, K. McLeod; piper, T. Houston; chaplain, Rev. D. G. McQueen; Managing committee, W. McKay, Rev. D. G. McQueen, J. R. Turnbull, D. C. Robertson and Jas. Launder Sr. The following members were appointed a committee to arrange a programme for the concert on St. Andrew's day: Messrs. McAdam, Dunlop, Campbell and Houston.

On Thursday and Friday last much difficulty was experienced in crossing the river. Mr. Le Roux came very nearly being carried down stream while attempting to cross with his team; but turned back and got ashore. The ice, which was flowing thick, had carried the wagon into deep water.

Another man, not nearly so successful was driving his rig across to which a light rig was attached behind. The rig behind was stuck with the ice, carried down stream and smashed into fragments. He got through with his wagon; but with difficulty. A third teamster was obliged to let his team go ashore whilst he remained behind and waited until a rope was attached to the wagon before it could be hauled out. The ice is thick in places by the side of the river; but being an accumulation of drift ice, it lets people through in spots and lucky is the man who, in endeavoring to reach the boat, which comes up to the edge of the ice, does not accidentally get wet. The water is very low and with a heavy load the ferryman has to walk in the water, dragging the boat after him. The necessity of a bridge becomes more and more apparent every day.

THE country is as free of snow as in mid-summer.

The upper ferry began to run again on Saturday afternoon.

INSPR. SNYDER returned from the treaty payments in the Stony Plain agency on Saturday.

A GENERAL meeting of the board of trade will be held to-morrow to form various committees.

WINNIPEG is making a protest against encouragement by the Dominion of pauper immigration.

COURT sits for the disposal of civil cases on Friday next. Judge Rouleau is expected to arrive on Thursday's train.

THE men comprising the petroleum borating party at Athabasca Landing will engage in cutting wood this winter to supply the engine next summer.

The new 150 horse power engine purchased by the Electric light company cost $1,500 and $387 freight.

BEFORE Mr. Jarvis J. P. on Friday, Geo. Overy was bound over to keep the peace in his own recognizances of $100, for threatening assault upon Mr. Stanton.

THE ladies of the Roman Catholic church will hold a sale of cakes in the C. M. B. Hall on Wednesday evening to which the public are invited. Tea and coffee will be served from 6 p.m.

HENDERSON & STEWART's traction threshing finished work on the Stony Plain last week. They will move this week to Rabbit hill settlement, South side. Israel Umbach is no longer connected with the firm.

MR. FENTON, manager for Moore & Macdowell's lumber firm here, left for Prince Albert on Friday's train, after winding up the business here. The lumber was purchased by K. A. McLeod and the logs by W. Humberstone.

THE proprietors of the Alberta hotel, Messrs. Marriagi & De Roux, have partitioned off a part of the dining room which has been again sub-divided into small private rooms. It is their intention to open a restaurant at which meals can be procured night and day.

A FIVE-ROOMED cottage 30x31 was completed on Thursday for T. A. Stephens, formerly manager of Lafferty & Moore's bank, at his ranch about four miles from town. Mr. Stephens has lumber on the ground for a large packing establishment, work upon which will begin at once.

CORPORAL FLYNN, ex-mounted policeman who was stationed at South Edmonton for some time, has bought his discharge from the force at Maple Creek, where he was recently stationed, to take an interest in Hall & Gibson's brewery. He arrived on Thursday night's train.

W. S. Reid, travelling representative of Saturday Night, who is travelling through the district writing articles for that paper, came in on Thursday's train and will visit Fort Saskatchewan and other outlying points before returning. Mr. Reid has just returned from a tour through British Columbia and the Kootenay district. Mr. Reid carries a camera with him and has taken a number of interesting views.

THE Cosmopolitan Magazine for November contains a breezy sketch of the Northwest Territories by Lee Merriweather in which the place of importance is given to Edmonton its surroundings and tributary country as far as the Arctic ocean. Mr. Merriweather will be remembered as having visited Edmonton in August of 1893. His sketches, besides being lengthy are interesting, and contain fairly accurate information. Mr. Merriweather evidently saw with both eyes and heard with only one ear when visiting the metropolis of the north.

PASSENGERS and mails arriving on Thursday's train crossed the river in small boats amidst floating ice and under circumstances of very great danger. The mails came over Thursday night, but passengers had to wait until Friday. Several families of settlers including a number of women and children were brought across in the small boat. Ice ran nearly all day Friday, but towards evening jammed clear across at both bends. On Saturday morning it still held and the river was running clear between, which made crossing in the small boat perfectly safe. Of course crossing with teams has been suspended since Wednesday night.

A MEETING of the mock parliament was held in the fire hall on Thursday evening, there being a larger number of persons present than there were on the first occasion. Mr. Spurr occupied the chair, Dr. Goodwin read the minutes of the previous meeting and Mr. Hockley read the report of the committee formulated to draft recommendations. Their report was adopted clause by clause. M. McCauley was elected governor general and in a short speech called upon C. M. Woodworth to form a cabinet.

This Mr. Woodworth explained he could not do until he knew the political leaning of the members; but promised to have a cabinet formed before the next meeting and declare the intentions of the government. A list of members having been formed, their constituencies were chosen and political leaning signified. The result gave political leaning signified. The result gave the government a majority of one with five independent members.

WM. LOUGH, who represents Major & Eldridge, commission merchants of Vancouver, has gone east to make business arrangements for the shipment of supplies to the firm he represents. He says that within the past two weeks two firms in Vancouver, and one in Victoria have received 2000 lbs. of butter each from Ontario. They have been compelled to do this because they cannot procure butter in the Northwest Territories although they would much prefer to do so. This firm is also receiving all its hams, bacon and eggs from Ontario. Mr. Lough says that a most profitable trade might be built up in poultry and eggs with the farmers of Alberta if they would raise more for shipment. Especially is this so in eggs because the Ontario farmers are now making shipments of eggs to England, and as eggs are bought there by weight and not by numbers, the large eggs are shipped to England while British Columbia comes in for the smaller ones. In everything he says there is a big demand that the Territories do not begin to supply.

TELEGRAPH line down south of Wetaskiwin to-day, consequently no telegrams.

The contract has been let by W. Humberstone for making a grade from the lower ferry landing to the extension of Cliff street past the coal mines.

The fur trade of the season is beginning; but only small lots of poor fur are yet offered, such as will scarcely bear the cost of export. Bear, silver fox and marten are up; but rates lynx, beaver, and mink are lower.

A BARN 58x60 has just been completed on Mr. Hutton's farm, in the Sturgeon settlement, on the site of one burned last summer. Mr. Haddon, the leasee had about fifteen thousand bushels of grain off 400 acres this year and keeps over 300 pigs.

The death of Mrs. Isaac Watson of First street occurred on Friday night last after a long illness. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon to the Edmonton cemetery. The deceased leaves five children, the eldest of whom is twelve years of age. They are in very poor circumstances as Mr. Watson is practically an invalid.

MISS OSBORNE, teacher of the primary department in the Edmonton public school has informed the trustees that she will not be able to re-engage as teacher for the coming year as the state of her health requires that she shall take a few months rest. Miss Osborne has taught in the Edmonton school for several years and her resignation will be generally regretted.

A TEACHERS convention will be held in the Edmonton public school on Friday Nov. 16th, when papers will be read upon the following subjects: "Oral Reading" by W. Briggs of Poplar Lake; "Seat work" by Miss L. Osborne, "The beginning of written arithmetic, A. M. Campbell, "Writing" W. G. Wellbourne, "Geography for Standards I, II and III" Miss L. A. Short, East Edmonton, "A lesson in composition" Miss Clarke, South Edmonton, "Notes from the field" J. A. Calder. After the several papers have been read, a question drawer will be opened. Questions must be handled in during the morning session. A teachers' meeting, for the purpose of organizing a Teachers' association will be held at the close of the session. The convention will be open to all who are interested in school work.

THE BRIDGE.

It is about time something was heard from Ottawa about the bridge matter if work is to be commenced this winter. Notwithstanding the strong assurances of the minister of interior on this subject and the vote of parliament, the fact remains that there is no bridge, nor as yet any commencement towards providing a bridge. When the parliamentary appropriation was made the BULLETIN remarked upon its unsatisfactory nature in two particulars, namely that it was not sufficient in amount and that it was conditional upon assistance from the town. From a letter received by the mayor and council from the minister of interior he seemed much put out by this plain statement of fact, and renewed his assurances as to the bridge being built, not forgetting however to close with a reminder that the town would be expected to make good its offer of assistance. In regard to this alleged offer of assistance by the town, of which such a strong point is made, a word or two may be said. In the first place the town as a town never offered any assistance towards the construction of a bridge. The idea that it did arise from the fact that at a public meeting of citizens a resolution was passed to the effect that in the opinion of the meeting it would be better for the town to pay a portion of the cost of the bridge than do without it. Provided, however, that the bridge was built at a certain place and within a certain time. Had the government accepted the offer on the terms suggested by the meeting there is very little doubt that it would have been ratified by the town. But when by reason of lapse of time the conditions cannot be fulfilled the government has no right to consider the offer even morally binding upon the town. As everyone knows it would be as foolish as it would be impossible for a town to pledge itself as to what it would do an indefinite number of years from the giving of the pledge. Conditions change so rapidly especially in a new country that however willing a town might be to make such foolish promises they could not be accepted as valuable. As a matter of fact a reasonable limit of time was fixed by the Edmonton meeting, the time is long past, therefore the offer has ceased to exist. It is altogether desirable that the present position of this matter should be distinctly understood. Namely that the government is not accepting an offer of aid made by the town of Edmonton towards the construction of a bridge for the benefit of the town, but is demanding $15,000 from the town of Edmonton as assistance towards the construction of a bridge which is the greatest public necessity in the Northwest at the present time, in consideration of the benefit which the town of Edmonton will incidentally derive from the construction of the bridge at this point—the point at which the public convenience demands that it shall be constructed. This being the position of affairs it becomes a question for the electors of Edmonton to decide whether it is worth their while to pay $15,000 towards the construction of this bridge or not. Their answer will no doubt depend upon the character of the bridge, its location and the limit of time allowed for its construction. The process of securing the assent of the people to a debenture by-law is a long one,—and properly so. The information as to the intentions of the government must be forthcoming and a business agreement made before a by-law can be submitted. That information is not yet to hand, therefore a by-law cannot be submitted, therefore a bridge cannot be started. It is well that the public should understand clearly the chain of circumstances so that if the bridge is not commenced, the blame may be placed upon the right shoulders.

ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY.

From the statement submitted at the general meeting of the Electric Light Co. held on Wednesday evening last it appeared that the receipts for the year ending Oct. 31st, 1894, were $4,236.45, as compared with a revenue of $3,995.21 for the year ending Oct. 31st, 1893. For the past year the running expenses were $3,106.39, as compared with $3,928.73 for the preceding year. Interest and discounts for the past year were $400.90. The excess of income over running expenses and interest during the past year was $729.16 as compared with a loss of $796.18 during the preceding year. The present power plant of the company includes two 65 horse power boilers, a new 150 horse power engine just being put in place, and a dynamo capable of carrying 1,500 lights. At present the company carry 749 lights and have orders for 120 more to be put on as soon as the new engine is in place. During the past year 44 lights were cut off. The water supply has been a constant source of expense and loss ever since the commencement of operations, but this difficulty has now been finally overcome, and no more trouble need be anticipated on that score. The limited number of lights which it was possible to carry with the plant lately in use kept down the earning power of the company without keeping down to a corresponding degree the expenses. With a large increase in the carrying power and without a corresponding increase in the expenses, prospects for profitable operation are fairly good.

AN OUTSIDE OPINION.

NEWCASTLE, Ont., Oct. 31st.
BULLETIN, Edmonton, N. W. T.

As per your request I shall endeavor to give your readers my impressions of your great Northwest, as presented to me during my journey on horseback this summer, coming in all over thirteen hundred miles.

Commencing at the Lone Pine 140 miles south of Edmonton and continuing for many miles north and as far west of Edmonton as the Jasper Valley you have area of good agricultural and grazing country capable of giving comfortable and happy homes to many millions of people. This whole area is well watered, well wooded and millions of acres ready and waiting for the plow. You have in British Columbia a good market for your wheat, flour, barley, oats, hay, potatoes, butter, eggs and cheese, also beef and mutton. British Columbia being a mineral province makes her a consumer and not a producer of all the farm produce named above.

Your close proximity, climate and soil and natural location make you the producer, but strange to say with all these natural advantages in your favor there are several great obstacles in your way, preventing that vast and great country from becoming what nature intended her to be, viz. one of the grandest and richest provinces in this whole Dominion. Excessive railway rates, restricted railway facilities and an incapable government, in the past and at the present are chaining you down and preventing the natural flow of trade and commerce, the rapid settlement and development of your country.

You require an independent railway from Winnipeg up through the fertile belt of the great Northwest to Edmonton, thence on west to Lethbridge, Jasper Valley, Yellowhead pass and down through British Columbia to Vancouver. Such a railway would give you an outlet for your farm products, manufactured goods, and minerals and an inlet for your merchandise; and to the stockholders of such a railway, from personal observation, I can bespeak to them the largest dividends of any railway in Canada and probably in America.

You require a Dominion representative who is perfectly conversant with all your requirements. A man capable of standing up on the floor of the house of commons and advocating your cause; a man who will carry the respect and confidence of other representatives; a man who at all times and under all circumstances will work for your interests; a man who will secure government aid to assist you in building railroads, bridges, &c., &c., a man who by his ability, honesty, energy and zeal will attract the attention of capitalists to the great necessity of building a railway as stated above and showing said capitalists that such a railway would pay handsome dividends to its investors. Such a man can easily be induced to offer himself as your representative and if not elected then your people and them alone will be responsible for all the evils and drawbacks I have pointed out.

At Edmonton you require a 50 barrel flour mill, a 50,000 bushel capacity grain elevator; a woollen mill; a pork packing establishment and a pulp mill

You have sufficient poplar and tamarac within a radius of a 125 miles of Edmonton to furnish pulp for the markets of America for years to come, much of which could be laid down at the mill for 75 cents per cord. Taking your wheat all through it is far superior in quality to that of Manitoba. Your wool is finer and better than ours in Ontario. Your oats, barley, hogs, cattle &c., cannot be beaten in the Dominion. With the very best raw material in our own Territories, with good bituminous steam coal, which can be laid down at the factory for $1.70 per ton and with British Columbia waiting and ever ready to purchase all you can produce, it is simply a crying shame that the growth, trade and commerce of that vast country should be restricted by the causes herein named.

Give to Edmonton all that I have mentioned above and in ten years she will be a city of 15,000 inhabitants. Geographically she is located and intended to be the natural distribution point for the far Northwest. Edmonton must occupy to the north country the same position that Winnipeg does to Manitoba. Give to Edmonton the same railway advantages the same recognition by the Dominion government and the same attention by the Canadian Pacific Railway as Winnipeg enjoys and it would be but a few years until you would far outrival her. You have the climate, soil, markets and natural products in your favor. For the last ten years I have probably travelled through more states, territories and provinces in Canada, the United States and Old Mexico than any other one man and from personal observation I consider an investment in any of the industries named above and located in Edmonton the safest for the investors of any place I have yet seen.

Yours truly,
R. J. EILBECK.

GENERAL NEWS.

Ottawa, Nov. 5th.—Lieut.-Gov Mackintosh is not so well to-day, having passed a very poor night.

A mirage occurred at Winnipeg last week in which Stonewall and the penitentiary were plainly visible.

The Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, in his late western tour, travelled 10,532 miles and delivered 89 speeches.

Laughlin McPhee, grain buyer of White-wood has left the country. He is charged with forging a cheque for $76.

An order in council appears in the Canada Gazette prescribing the various forms for procedure under the Territorial irrigation act.

Thos. Connolly, Dominion Immigration agent for Dublin, after touring through the Northwest, has returned to Dublin and will probably be a home rule candidate for the Imperial parliament at the next election.

City engineer Keating of Toronto, has testified that a representative of the Brush Electric Company of Cleveland had told him that an alderman had informed him that $15,000 would bribe a majority of the city council into giving the company the contract for the municipal lighting. Further developments are expected.

The value of goods entered at the Winnipeg customs port during October for consumption amounted to $181,188.00, and the duty collected thereon amounted to $40,790.75. The value of goods exported during the same period is placed at $260,612.00. The figures for the corresponding month of last year are: Goods entered for consumption, $204,844.00; duly collected, $55,300.57; exports, $109,306.00.

There are a few remarkable circumstances connected with the trial and imprisonment of Capt. Neale. After a chase of several thousand miles, the trial occupied but a few minutes. Judge Richardson, who sentenced Neale to seven years had been an old time personal friend of the prisoner. Colonel Irvine, warden of the penitentiary where Neale will serve his long term, was a brother officer in the Northwest mounted police. Sergeant Green, of the mounted police, brought Neale from Regina. Arriving at Winnipeg, the sergeant and his prisoner quietly left the depot by a back way escaping all notice, and drove to the Leland hotel. There they registered as "Sergeant Green and friend."

General Superintendent Whyte, of the C.P. R., accompanied by master mechanic Cross, left Thursday for Donald, on a trip to the end of the division. Mr. Whyte may also visit Edmonton before his return. Speaking of the success of the time table inaugurated a few weeks ago, Mr. Whyte stated that the company was well satisfied with the results and that it would be maintained through the winter. It was not as fast all through the country as the one of last summer, but it was a good quick winter service. Next summer the time will be still further reduced, as the express trains have now only a fast run west of Moose Jaw at the connection with the Soo line.

Free Press: Three prominent government officials have been appointed to enquire into the freight rates—a chief engineer on the Intercolonial, a superintendent of mines and a homestead inspector. That is the lot. Only one of the gentlemen named, Mr. Pearce, of Calgary, is known here at all. Whatever the gentlemen composing the commission may be, the fact that they are employees of the government fatally impairs their usefulness and will cast suspicion upon the impartiality of their findings. The departments of the interior and of railways have been brought in closer contact in the past with the Canadian Pacific Railway than any other departments at Ottawa. It seems preposterous to appoint a commission from the employees of those very departments. The country looked for a commission composed of men of very different character and standing, whose report would have had weight not only here but in Eastern Canada. Evidently, however, the intention of the government is to have a commission that can be controlled.

T. H. Preston of the Brantford Expositor has come through an interesting libel suit. The plaintiff was Mr. Oles, a barrister, and the case arose thus: The Expositor stated that Mr. Henderson had sold his business. Mr. Henderson at once went to the office and asked for a correction. Mr. Henderson met Mr. Oles on the street and being asked about the reported sale, said that it was a misstatement. Mr. Oles then said he had good cause for action against the Expositor and offered to conduct the suit without cost to Mr. Henderson. When the Expositor heard this, it issued an article headed "The Vulture" in which, Mr. Oles' name was not mentioned; but in such a descriptive manner that there was no mistaking the individual; and in court, the defence took the ground that his conduct was so reprehensible that the term "Vulture" was not too strong a term. The judge in summing up the case said that if Mr. Oles' conduct was what had been represented by witnesses he was a person who ought not to enjoy the confidence of his brethren at the bar or the confidence of the community. The man who did an admittedly disreputable act in an admittedly honorable profession ought to be shamed. The Toronto Globe commenting on the verdict says thus: "That there are such members of the profession was inferentially admitted in the address of Mr. Hardy, and the lay public will be of opinion that the body of the profession is concerned in ridding itself of this rapacious and conscienceless element in its ranks. It is known to the public and it is known to the profession that there are barristers who watch like spiders for chances to set neighbors by the ears, and it is from the actions of such few as they may be that point is given to the popular conception of the profession. Surely there is a way by which such men can more frequently be brought to book for their conduct before the tribunal of their fellow-practitioners."

Count V. E. de Sainville, a Parisian, who left Edmonton in 1888, and has spent the past six years in the Mackenzie territory, arrived at San Francisco on Oct. 29th, by the steam whaler Jeannette. "I did not intend to stay any length of time," said the count, "but when I got so far north and found that so little was known of the country, I decided to turn explorer. I had the best maps with me, but I found many inaccuracies in them. Then I corrected as I descended the great river of the north, and my notes will make material changes in the geography. I expected to find winters in the north long and wearisome, but I was mistaken. I like them better each year. There is no more ideal place for a hunter than along the north coast of North America. I found plenty to do. Deer were plentiful, and while not hunting I was studying language. I discovered that Esquiman Lake is merely a chain of small lakes, beginning not far from the Mackenzie river, about 300 miles south of the mouth, running in a northeasterly direction and emptying into the Arctic ocean near Cape Bathurst. One summer I explored the delta at the mouth of the Mackenzie and I found many inaccuracies in the maps and charts. The great river itself is some distance from the place assigned to it on the maps. New islands are being formed at the mouth. When Mackenzie discovered the river about 100 years ago, he reported clear water north of Holket Island. Now he would have to pass many islands north of that island to find clear water. The river is a tremendous stream—one of the greatest in the world. The quantity of sediment it carries down is enormous. One summer was spent exploring the country west of the Mackenzie. I started out as soon as the snow left the ground, with two natives and ascended the Peel River as far as its source in the Rocky Mountains. This was the wildest country I saw. I ascended some mountains over 5,000 feet high, and found little snow on them." Count de Sainville recently sent to his relatives the first letters he had a chance to mail in five years. He expects to return to France and write a book.
